Background

A significant restructuring of the product structure and associated product order IDs has been implemented. This change was necessary to ensure a consistent and uniform product structure as the company moves forward.

Customer impact

Customers should note that the products themselves remain unchanged. The form, fit, and function of each product are preserved. This update is strictly a logistical adjustment, where the previous order IDs are being marked as obsolete and new order IDs are being introduced. No technical modifications have been made to the products.
